

LifeTraits™

Design starts with you.

YOUR SPACE
IS YOUR STORY.
POLLY

Knowing your LifeTraits helps you make decisions now and in the future. You will better understand why you make certain choices and what your environment needs to support those choices.

The LifeTraits personality types represented in Eheart's showroom are similar to the system of understanding human character developed by Swiss psychologist Carl G. Jung. Polly created LifeTraits in an effort to better understand her clients and their design preferences. Polly has taken Jung's four personality types and applied them to the design environment and created LifeTraits.

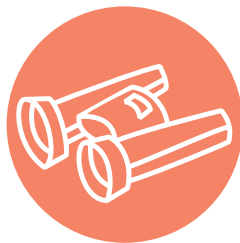

Her work with human factors engineers showed how the LifeTraits Quiz reflected the design preferences that clients expressed. Polly authored Creating You LifeSpace available nationwide through Barnes and Noble, as a gift for each Home Buyer at Eheart Design. This process has been personalized through materials selections and customized guides at Eheart.

Below are the four LifeTraits classifications:
